INTRODUCTION

This booklet is the Summary Plan Description (SPD) for the J. Paul Getty Trust Employee Investment Plan and Defined Contribution Retirement Plan.

If there is any conflict between this SPD and the Plan documents, the Plan documents will govern. This SPD supersedes any previously issued SPDs or booklets describing the above-mentioned plans. This SPD is not intended as a contract and should not be construed as creating contractual obligations. Furthermore, the plan is not an employment contract and does not afford any employee the right of continued employment. All benefits are subject to change solely at the discretion of the Getty.

You should read this SPD carefully and keep it with your other important benefit information for future reference. If you have any questions about the program that are not answered in this booklet, please call Getty Human Resources at 310.440.6523 or send an email to Benefits@getty.edu.

OVERVIEW OF THE EMPLOYEE INVESTMENT PROGRAM

The J. Paul Getty Trust provides employees with The Employee Investment Program designed to complement benefits provided by Social Security and other personal savings in order to help provide financial security during retirement.

This program gives employees a way to save with before-tax dollars and/or after-tax dollars, as well as the opportunity to:

- Receive a contribution from the Getty;
- Invest the money in your plan accounts so they may grow, tax-deferred;
- Withdraw money from your Employee Investment Plan Account subject to IRS restrictions and penalties while you're still working; and
- Receive a benefit when you leave the Getty.

The Employee Investment Program consists of two plans:

- 1) The Employee Investment Plan (EIP)
- And -
- 2) The Defined Contribution Retirement Plan (DCRP).

The Employee Investment Plan (EIP) is governed by Internal Revenue Code Section 403(b).

Employees can make the following contributions under the EIP:

- 1) Before-tax contributions
- 2) After-tax Roth contributions
- 3) A combination of the two

Total contributions cannot exceed the year's IRS-regulated contribution limit.*

The Defined Contribution Retirement Plan (DCRP) is governed by Internal Revenue Code Section 401(a) and may contain the following accounts:

- 1) The Match Account, which holds the Getty's contributions that match up to 4% of your base pay,
- And -
- 2) The Non-Elective Contribution Account, which holds the Getty's Non-Elective Contribution.

Different rules apply to the EIP and DCRP accounts:

- You may select different investments for each account.
- Your own contributions always belong to you, while you earn a right to the Getty contributions over three years of credited service.
- Hardship withdrawals and general purpose loans are permitted from the EIP Account [403(b)], but not from the other accounts.

Throughout this document, the term "Earnings" refers to the amount of your base salary plus overtime payments, including payroll deductions for health care coverage, Flexible Spending Accounts and EIP contributions. Bonuses, lump-sum payments, other allowances, such as relocation allowance payments, and similar payments are not considered part of your base earnings for determining how much you may contribute or in calculating the Getty's contributions.

For all purposes under the plan, the maximum amount recognized as "Earnings" is the annual compensation limit set by the IRS.

ELIGIBILITY AND PARTICIPATION

Who Is Eligible

You are eligible to participate in the Employee Investment Program on the first day you are an employee of the J. Paul Getty Trust. You are not eligible if you are a leased employee.

New employees hired on or after January 1, 2009 are automatically enrolled in the Employee Investment Plan 30 days after being notified. Employees hired before January 1, 2009 may enroll at any time throughout the year.

You may participate in the Defined Contribution Retirement Plan (DCRP) in two ways:

- 1) When you participate in the EIP by deferring compensation to it, the Getty makes a matching contribution up to a maximum of 4% of your base pay on your behalf, which is held in the Match Account.

- 2) Whether you deferring to the EIP or not, the Getty makes a non-elective contribution on your behalf which is held in the Non-Elective Contribution Account.

You are not eligible to participate in the DCRP if:

- You are covered by a collective bargaining agreement that does not provide for your participation in the DCRP
- You are a leased employee
- You are not a U.S. resident and are covered by a foreign retirement system to which the Getty contributes.

You are eligible for the Non-Elective Contribution Account if:

- Either -
 - when hired, you are expected to complete at least 1,000 hours of service during any consecutive 12-month period beginning on your date of hire or any January 1 thereafter
- Or -
 - you have completed 1,000 hours of service during any such a consecutive 12-month period.

When Participation Begins

Automatic Enrollment

If you were hired on or after January 1, 2009, you were automatically enrolled in the EIP with a before-tax contribution of 4% of your Earnings after a 30-day notice period. This ensures that you receive the full Getty match amount of 4%. Your 4% contribution will be reflected in the first pay check following 30 days of employment. During the notice period, you will be able to elect not to contribute 4% of your pay. You can also elect to enroll immediately, rather than wait for the 30-day notice period.

Your Election to Enroll

If not already enrolled, employees can enroll in the EIP at any time.

To enroll or to change your contribution at any time, call Vanguard at 800.523.1188 or log on to Vanguard's website, www.vanguard.com. Remember that you can choose to contribute more or less than 4%, up to the IRS limit, or may choose to contribute nothing.

Designating a Beneficiary

When you join the plan you will be asked to name your beneficiary. A beneficiary is the person(s) or organization you name to receive your account balances if you die before receiving them. A beneficiary must be designated for both the Employee Investment Plan and the Defined Contribution Retirement Plan. If you don't have a Beneficiary Designation on file, any balances will be paid to your surviving spouse. If you do not have a surviving spouse, any balances will be paid to your estate. If you are married and name a beneficiary other than your spouse, your spouse's notarized consent is required.

You may change your beneficiary at any time by logging on to www.vanguard.com. For instructions, refer to Appendix A.

HOW THE EMPLOYEE INVESTMENT PROGRAM WORKS

As noted previously, the Employee Investment Program includes two plans:

- 1) the EIP, which holds the employee contributions; and
- 2) the DCRP, which holds the Getty contributions to the Match Account and the Non-Elective Contribution Account.

The Employee Investment Plan Account

The EIP Account, which holds your before-tax payroll contributions or after-tax Roth payroll contributions, is authorized under Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code. You must make contributions through payroll deductions. For before-tax payroll contributions, you do not pay Federal and state income taxes on your contributions or earnings until the money is withdrawn or distributed. Your contributions, however, are subject to Social Security (FICA) taxes. For after-tax Roth contributions, your contributions are included in your state and federal taxable income when they are made to the EIP. Your payroll contributions are deposited in the investment funds you have chosen or in the default investment fund, if you have not made a selection.

How Much You Can Contribute

The IRS sets limits on the minimum and maximum amounts you can contribute to your EIP in a calendar year. Log on to www.gettybenefits.com for the current year limits. The total of your before-tax and after-tax Roth contributions cannot exceed the year's contribution limit. If you are age 50 or older before the end of the current calendar year, you can contribute an additional "catch-up" amount.

Example maximum contribution in one calendar year:

2018 EIP Account
Age	Maximum Contribution
49 or younger	$18,500
50 or older	Additional $6,000 (total of $24,500)

Contribution limits may change annually.

If you are not sure how much you can afford to contribute, use the Paycheck Modeler found on the home page of Employee Self Service (ESS).

Tax Advantages for Before-Tax Contributions

Suppose your base salary is $60,000 a year and the maximum you can contribute based on IRS regulations is $18,500 in the current calendar year if you are 49 or younger. Because you are contributing $18,500 on a before-tax basis, your annual taxable income is $41,500:

$60,000	Base Salary
($18,500)	Maximum Contribution
$41,500	Annual Taxable Income

By making EIP contributions on a before-tax basis, you defer Federal and, in many states, state income taxes. These taxes will be based on $41,500 in earnings, not $60,000. However, Social Security (FICA) taxes are not affected. So, when you retire, there's no effect on your Social Security benefits.

Changing or Stopping Your Contributions

You may change or stop your contribution any time during the year by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188 or logging on to their website at www.retirementplans.vanguard.com. For instructions, refer to Appendix A.

Your contributions will change or stop as of the first pay period after your request is processed. If you stop your contributions, you must contact Vanguard when you want to restart your contributions, by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188 or logging on to www.vanguard.com.

Rollover Contributions

You may have participated in a previous employer's 401(k) or 403(b) plan, or a 457(b) plan of a governmental employer. Or you may have an individual retirement account (IRA) consisting solely of funds from such a plan of a former employer. The EIP will accept rollovers from these types of plans, if you provide acceptable information. Certain other restrictions may apply.

You cannot roll over:

- A distribution that is paid to you in installments for a period of 10 years or more, for your life expectancy, or your and your beneficiary's joint life expectancy;
- A required minimum distribution paid to you when you reach age 70 ½ or older;
- An amount you received as a hardship withdrawal or as a plan loan; or

- Amounts that represent refunds of excess contributions, excess deferrals, or amounts in excess of IRS limits.

For instructions on rolling over funds, refer to Appendix A. Make sure that either you request a direct rollover from the previous plan or you roll over your distribution within 60 days from the date on the check you receive from the other plan. Otherwise, your distribution will not be eligible for a rollover and could become taxable to you.

Vesting

Vesting is the nonforfeitable right to receive benefits from the program. The contributions you make to your EIP Account always belong to you. You are also always fully vested in any rollover contribution you make under the program.

The Defined Contribution Retirement Plan

This plan contains the Getty's contributions and consists of two components:

- 1) The Match Account, which holds the Getty's matching contributions, is authorized under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Getty matches your contributions to the EIP Account, up to 4% of your Earnings on a pay period basis. This means for every dollar you contribute, the Getty contributes one dollar, up to a maximum of 4% of Earnings each payroll period.
- 2) The Non-Elective Contribution Account holds the Getty's non-elective contribution for eligible employees. The Getty contributes 6% of Earnings you earn each payroll period if your salary is no more than the Social Security Wage Base. If your salary is greater than the Social Security Wage Base, the contribution is 6% of your salary up to the Social Security Wage Base, plus 10% for earnings above the wage base, up to the IRS compensation limit.

The Match Account

The Getty will match each dollar you put into your EIP Account up to 4% of your Earnings. The matching contribution is computed each pay period and wired to your account with Vanguard.

The Getty also makes a "true-up" match each year. A "true-up" match ensures that you receive the maximum employer match if you contribute at least 4% of your salary for the year – regardless of the timing of your contributions. With the "true-up," at the end of the year, the Getty will look back at your total contributions as a percentage of your total Earnings. If your contributions qualify for any match that you didn't receive on a per pay period basis, the Getty will add money to match your contributions. This should result in a participant receiving a full 4% match on their contributions for the year.

Anyone who is still employed with the Getty as of December 31st and who has contributed to the plan during the year is eligible for the "true-up" match. Any additional contributions will be made as soon as administratively possible following the end of the year.

After-tax Roth contributions are also matched by the Getty and are subject to the same limitations as before-tax contributions. The Getty match is a before-tax contribution.

The Non-Elective Contribution Account

If you meet the eligibility requirements as described on page 2, the Getty will make a contribution on your behalf in the amount of:

- Six percent (6%) of your Earnings to the extent that it does not exceed the Social Security Wage Base,
-AND-
- Ten percent (10%) of your Earnings that are in excess of the Social Security Wage Base up to the IRS compensation limit.

The Social Security Wage Base and IRS compensation limits may change annually.

Vesting

The contributions you make to your EIP Account always belong to you.

You "vest in," or earn a right to the Match Account, over time, depending on your years of service. A year of service is a calendar year in which you have completed at least 1,000 hours of service. Your vesting depends on years of service, not the number of years you participate in the EIP. Your hire date/anniversary date are not used to calculate your vesting.

You will fully vest in the Match and Non-Elective Contribution Accounts after three (3) years of service.

The vesting schedule effective January 1, 2014 is the following:

Years of Service You Have Completed	Vesting Percentage
0 – 1	0%
2	0%
3	100%

You automatically vest in the Match and Non-Elective Contribution Accounts if you reach age 65 while still employed at the Getty, if you die, or if you become totally and permanently disabled and are eligible to receive benefits under the Getty's Long Term Disability Plan and not performing any duties for the Getty.

If You Leave and are Rehired

If you leave the Getty with no vested interest in the Match Account or the Non-Elective Contribution Account and are rehired, your previous vesting service in the Match Account or the Non-Elective Contribution Account will be restored if your break in service is not equal to or greater than (i) five years or (ii) your number of years of service completed prior to your break in service, whichever is greater.

A break in service includes each calendar year in which you have less than 500 hours of service.

If you were not vested but took a distribution from your Account when you left, you must repay the amount you received in order to have the forfeited Getty matching contribution restored. You have five years from your date of reemployment to repay the amount you received. If you do not repay this amount within five years, the non-vested amount is forfeited.

NONDISCRIMINATION TESTS

In order to satisfy IRS rules, the Employee Investment Program must periodically undergo nondiscrimination tests to ensure that highly paid employees, as defined by the IRS, are not benefiting disproportionately under the Program.

If the Program or any portion thereof, fails these tests, the matching contribution level for highly paid employees might have to be reduced. You will be notified if this applies to you.

INVESTING YOUR ACCOUNTS

You decide how you want all your account balances to be invested.

Investment Choices

The EIP Account, the Match Account and the Non-Elective Contribution Account have a variety of investment options to choose from. For a list of fund choices, log on to the Vanguard website, www.vanguard.com. For instructions, see the "Fund Choices" section of Appendix A. If you do not select an investment option, your contributions will be invested automatically in the Target Retirement Fund determined by your age at enrollment. You can change your investment direction at any time by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188 or logging on to the Vanguard website, www.vanguard.com. For instructions, see the "Fund Allocation Change" section of Appendix A.

If you were contributing to the Prudential Fund as of July 1, 1995, you can continue to direct your own before-tax contributions—but not the Match Account, rollover contributions or the Non-elective Contribution Accounts—to this fund. Special rules apply. (See “Prudential Fund” on page 10.) The Prudential Fund is no longer available to new participants.

Your Investment Strategy

The amount of retirement savings you'll receive from the Program depends on how you invest your account balances, how your investments perform over time, and when you take distributions. In making your investment decisions, only you can determine your own financial objectives and your tolerance for risk.

Vanguard's website, www.vanguard.com, has a broad range of planning tools and learning resources to help you manage various aspects of your retirement savings. You can also call Vanguard at 800.523.1188 for help.

A prospectus for each Vanguard fund is available from Vanguard's website at www.vanguard.com or you may request one by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188. For a prospectus for non-Vanguard funds, you must request one by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188. Read the prospectus carefully before making an investment choice. Any applicable investment fees plus expenses will be disclosed in each prospectus.

The Employee Investment Program is designed to satisfy section 404(c) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (“ERISA”) and title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations Section 2240.404(c)-1. As such, the program offers you the opportunity to exercise control over your Employee Investment Plan Account, your Match Account and your Non-Elective Contribution Account by allowing you to:

- a) choose from a broad range of investment choices;
- b) determine the manner in which these assets will be invested; and,
- c) receive and access information necessary to make informed decisions with respect to the investment options under the plan.

The fiduciary of the program (The J. Paul Getty Trust) is obligated, with certain exceptions, to comply with these instructions. As a result, the fiduciary of the program is generally relieved of liability for any losses which are the direct and necessary result of investment instructions given by you or your beneficiary.

Any proxy voting or similar rights applicable to your EIP accounts may be passed on to you; consult the investment information for each fund.

Obtaining Your Account Balance

You can obtain your current account balance by logging onto Vanguard's website at www.vanguard.com, or by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188.

Each quarter you will receive a statement that indicates the balances of your Accounts. You may choose to have these statements delivered to you electronically. The statement also shows the funds in which your accounts are invested. You can also find the daily price of the Vanguard Funds in most major newspapers, on Vanguard's website at www.vanguard.com or by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188.

Quarterly statements, prospectuses, and other plan literature are mailed to your home address. However, you may elect to receive these documents via email. To do so, log on to www.vanguard.com > Menu > My Profile > Mailing Preferences.

Changing Your Investments

The Program gives you the flexibility to change your investments at any time to suit your personal investment goals.

You may move your account balances among the available funds at any time by logging on to Vanguard's website at www.vanguard.com or by calling Vanguard at 800.523.1188. Certain funds may require transaction fees; refer to each fund's prospectus before investing. For instructions, refer to Appendix A.

Transfers will be made according to Vanguard's trading rules for the Program. In general, transfers made weekdays by 1:00 p.m. PST will be processed the same day at the day's share price; transfers made after 1:00 p.m. will be processed the next day at the next day's share price. Transfers are not processed on Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays.

Prudential Fund

Only the employees who were contributing to the Prudential Fund as of July 1, 1995, are able to continue contributing through salary reduction. If you have a balance in the Prudential Fund, certain special rules apply to you:

- Hardship withdrawals, loans and certain in-service withdrawals are permitted.
- You can transfer money from the Prudential Fund to the Vanguard Funds (subject to vendor restrictions) at any time, but early withdrawal penalties may apply. Contact Prudential at 800.458.6333 for details.
- You have different payout options from the Prudential Fund than from the Vanguard Funds (see "Receiving Your Account Balances," beginning on page 14).

WITHDRAWALS FROM THE EIP ACCOUNT WHILE A GETTY EMPLOYEE

The goal of the Employee Investment Program is to help you create long-term security. The law permits you to defer taxes until retirement. The longer you participate in the program, the more opportunity you have for investment growth. Usually the money in your accounts is paid out when you retire, become disabled, end your employment with the Getty, or die. However, while you're actively employed, you may be eligible to take:

- A withdrawal of your contributions to the EIP Account to meet a financial hardship;
- A general purpose loan from your EIP account, or
- A lump-sum withdrawal at age 59 ½ of all or part of the amount in the EIP Account.

Please note that only your EIP contributions are available for any of these types of withdrawals available under the Plan — not earnings. General purpose loans are limited to 50% of your EIP account or $50,000, whichever is less. This limit is reduced by the amount of your highest outstanding loan balance during the previous 12 months. The money in your other accounts is not available for withdrawal while you are employed by the Getty. Please see the section titled "Receiving Your Account Balances" for more information on the availability of your Accounts when you leave the Getty.

Hardship Withdrawals

The IRS permits a hardship withdrawal only if you experience an immediate and heavy financial need and other resources are not available to meet the need. A "hardship" generally means you have a financial need on account of:

- Payment of tax-deductible medical expenses for you, your spouse, children, or dependents;
- Payment of tuition, related educational fees, and room and board for the next 12 months of post-secondary education for you, your spouse, children, or dependents;
- Purchase of your principal residence (excluding mortgage payments);
- Need to prevent eviction from, or foreclosure on, your principal residence;
- Payment for burial or funeral expenses for your deceased parent, spouse, child or other dependent as defined by the IRS, or
- Expenses for the repair of damage to your principal residence that would qualify for the casualty deduction under IRC Section 165.

Hardship withdrawals are subject to the following restrictions:

- You may only withdraw amounts as a hardship withdrawal if sufficient funds to alleviate the hardship are not available to you from other sources, including a general purpose loan as discussed below;
- You may only withdraw money from your contributions of the EIP Account, not your Match Account nor your Non-Elective Contribution Account;

- You may not withdraw any earnings credited to your EIP Account after 1988;
- You will be suspended from making any contributions to your EIP Account – and forfeiting the Match – for 6 months, beginning with the pay period after your hardship withdrawal is approved.

For instructions on how to request a hardship withdrawal, refer to Appendix A. When you contact Vanguard, you will be asked to indicate the amount you want to withdraw, the reason for the withdrawal and whether the withdrawal is for contributions made before or after 1988. You must provide documentation to Getty Human Resources to support your request.

Keep in mind that hardship withdrawal requests can be denied. Your request must be approved by the Getty's Retirement Plans Committee or its delegate, and by Vanguard. Your withdrawal will be processed as soon as administratively possible, usually within 30 days.

Additional Tax on Hardship Withdrawals

In addition to normal tax withholdings, the IRS requires you to pay an extra 10% Federal penalty tax and California requires you to pay an extra 2.5% penalty tax on any funds you withdraw while actively employed before you reach age 59 ½, unless you use the money to pay for certain tax-deductible medical expenses. These penalties may not apply if the withdrawal is due to your total disability.

It is important to consult your tax advisor when considering a hardship withdrawal.

Age 59 ½ Lump-Sum or Partial Withdrawal

If you're an active employee age 59 ½ or older, you may apply to receive a total or partial lump-sum distribution of the amount in your EIP account. The Match Account and the Non-Elective Contribution Account balances are not available while employed unless you become disabled. For instructions on how to apply for this withdrawal, refer to Appendix A.

If you request an in-service withdrawal after age 59 ½, your request will not affect your continued participation in the Employee Investment Program.

General Purpose Loans

If you are enrolled in the Employee Investment Plan (EIP) and have an account balance with Vanguard, you may apply for a general purpose loan. There are many advantages to taking a loan from the plan rather than requesting a hardship withdrawal. In some situations, you may be required to take a general purpose loan before the Committee can approve a hardship withdrawal. This option has been made available, and you may prefer it because:

- You are not responsible for income tax or early withdrawal penalties on any amounts you borrow from your EIP Account as long as you pay back the loan in accordance with Plan rules,
- You have an automatic plan on how your retirement savings will be replenished even though you temporarily need the funds now, and
- You continue to be eligible to make salary deferrals (your contributions are automatically suspended for six months if you receive a hardship withdrawal).

There are a number of rules and procedures governing general purpose loans. Generally,

- The minimum loan is $1,000 and only one loan may be taken at a time;
- The maximum loan that is permitted to be outstanding at any time is 50% of your EIP account or $50,000, whichever is less. This limit is reduced by the amount of your highest outstanding loan balance during the previous 12 months;
- You must repay the loan through automatic payroll deductions. Repayment terms include:
 - A maximum repayment period of 5 years (15 years if the loan is for the purchase of a primary residence), and
 - Interest on the loan based on the prime rate plus 1% at the time your loan is processed.
- The amounts deducted from your paycheck to repay the loan are processed on an "after-tax" basis. This means all tax withholding is determined before reducing your pay for the repayment.
- You are responsible for the fees associated with administering the loan. Currently, there is a one-time application fee of $100 ($50 if you initiate the loan through Vanguard.com or VOICE Network) and an annual maintenance fee of $25.

If you apply for a hardship withdrawal under the Plan, you will be required to access the maximum general purpose loan first whenever (i) the amount needed to satisfy the hardship is available to you through a loan, and (ii) the payroll deduction required to repay the loan does not itself cause you a financial hardship.

For instructions on how to request a loan, refer to Appendix A. Your loan will be processed as soon as administratively possible, usually within 30 days.

RECEIVING YOUR ACCOUNT BALANCES

You have the right to receive 100% of your EIP Account balance (your contributions adjusted for earnings and losses) if you leave the Getty for any reason. You also have the right to receive the vested portion of your Defined Contribution Retirement Plan balance. The amount of the payment from the Program will be based on the value of your vested account(s) under each fund as of the day your written request is processed by Vanguard or Prudential.

If you have any outstanding general purpose loans when you terminate employment, your actual distribution from your EIP Account will be reduced to reflect a "deemed" payment of any remaining amounts due under the terms of the loan, if you do not repay the loan in full from other sources within the time period specified in the Loan Policy. Please note that since you did not pay income taxes on the funds when you took out your loan, you will be responsible for income taxes on any amounts "deemed" paid to the Plan at the time you receive your distribution. In other words, any remaining loan balance not repaid at the time of your termination of employment will be treated as a distribution and you will be responsible for taxes and, possibly, penalties on that amount.

Your vested account balances will be paid to you (or to your beneficiary, if you die) as soon as administratively possible after the request for payment is made.

Balances Less Than or Equal To $5,000

After you leave the Getty, Vanguard will contact you regarding payout options for balances less than or equal to $5,000. For this purpose, your balance will include the value of any outstanding loan balances that are "deemed" paid as discussed above.

Account balances more than $1,000 but not more than $5,000 will be automatically rolled over into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) with Vanguard unless you: 1) elect to receive a lump-sum payment; 2) roll your funds over into another qualified plan or IRA; or 3) elect to receive periodic installments until your entire account balance has been paid. If rolled to an IRA with Vanguard, as required by law, this account will be invested in an investment product designed to preserve principal and provide a reasonable rate of return and liquidity.

Account balances that are $1,000 or less will be paid to you in a taxable lump-sum payment unless you: 1) elect to receive a lump-sum payment; 2) roll your funds over into another qualified plan or IRA; or 3) elect to receive periodic installments until your entire account balance has been paid.

Balances More Than $5,000

If your balance is more than $5,000, you can choose to receive it under the following methods:

Vanguard-Held Fund(s). Your balance held at Vanguard Investments may be paid to you, according to your direction, in one of the following forms:

- Lump Sum. Under this option, you are paid a single cash amount of your entire account balance.
- Rollover. Under this option, you may roll over the funds into another employer's qualified 401(a), 403(a) or 403(b) plan that accepts rollovers, a governmental 457(b) plan that accepts rollovers, or an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Amounts that are not transferred or rolled over directly will generally be subject to a 20% Federal withholding tax.
- Installments. Under this option, you are paid in periodic installments until your entire account balance has been paid. If you die before your entire account has been paid, installments continue to your beneficiary until your account balance is zero. Payments made prior to age 59 ½ may be subject to a penalty.
- Partial Distribution. Under this option, you may take a portion of your account balance and the remainder will stay with Vanguard until/unless you elect to take another distribution.

Please see Required Minimum Distributions, below, for information about any distributions you may be required to take.

Prudential Fund. Your balance in the Prudential Fund may be paid to you as follows:

- Lump Sum. Under this option, you are paid a single cash amount of your entire account balance.
- 100% Joint & Survivor annuity. Under this option, you receive a reduced monthly retirement benefit for as long as you live. After your death, your beneficiary—who can be anyone with your spouse's consent—will receive 100% of your monthly benefit, for the remainder of his or her lifetime.
- 120 Certain Payments. Under this option, you receive a reduced monthly retirement benefit for as long as you live. If you die before receiving 120 monthly payments, the remaining payments are made to your named beneficiary. If he or she dies before all 120 payments are made, the balance of payments will be paid to your beneficiary's estate. Married participants need spousal consent to elect this option.
- Single Life Annuity. Under this option, which is available to married employees with spousal consent, you receive a monthly retirement benefit for as long as you live. When you die, all payments stop.

You select the payment method you prefer. However, if you have an outstanding loan from the Prudential Fund at the time of payment, your outstanding loan amount will be deducted from your account before payments are made to you.

For installment payments, the expected payout period must satisfy IRS rules and be within the expected lifetimes of you and your designated beneficiary.

Required Minimum Distributions

If you choose to postpone receiving the money in your accounts, you don't have to start receiving your money until the April 1 after the calendar year in which you reach age 70 ½. However, if you are still working at the Getty after you reach age 70 ½, you may defer payments until you retire.

It will be your responsibility to request money from your account after you reach age 70 ½. If you die, and your beneficiary is your spouse, the money can be left in the Program until the April 1 after the calendar year you would have reached age 70 ½. In this case, it will be your beneficiary's responsibility to request money from your account. Getty Human Resources will not notify you. If you or your beneficiary do not take distributions when and in the amounts required by law, a 50% excise tax could be imposed on you or your beneficiary.

Requesting a Distribution

For instructions on how to receive a distribution from the Program, including a hardship withdrawal, refer to Appendix A.

Taxes on Your Account Balance

While you are a participant in the Program, you postpone paying taxes on your account balances for your before-tax contributions until you actually receive the money. When you receive a payment from the Program, the payment is subject to taxes. The amount of taxes you pay depends on the type of distribution you select and the tax laws in effect when the payment is made.

Distribution of Roth designated funds in retirement will not be subject to taxes if the requirements for a "qualified distribution" are satisfied:

- Payment must be made after age 59 ½, disability, or death, and
- The Roth account must have been in existence at least 5 calendar years.

Additional Tax on Early Payments

If you stop working for the Getty before reaching age 55 and you take your payment in a lump-sum, the IRS requires that you pay a 10% Federal penalty tax on payments. Additionally, California requires you to pay a 2.5% state penalty tax. The California state penalty taxes do not currently apply to participants who reside outside of California, but your state of residence may impose a similar tax. These penalty taxes are in addition to regular income taxes and apply to your before-tax and rollover contributions, the Getty contributions, and all earnings.

You may avoid the penalty tax, however, if any of the following apply:

- You directly roll the balance of your Accounts into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or into any other qualified retirement plan;
- You withdraw the money to pay for tax-deductible medical expenses over the Federal cap (in excess of 10% of adjusted gross income);
- You wait until you reach age 59 ½ to receive a payout;
- You or your beneficiaries receive a payout because of your death or disability; or
- You take your payment in regular installments over your (or your and your beneficiary's) life expectancy.

Remember, a 20% Federal withholding tax generally applies if your payment is not rolled directly into an IRA or another qualified retirement plan. See "Direct Rollovers" for more information.

Making Your Decision

The tax laws that apply to payments from the Employee Investment Program are complicated, and the Getty cannot provide you with specific tax advice. Consult a tax advisor before deciding how you want your account balances paid to you.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Continuing the Plans

The Getty reserves the right to change, reduce benefits or end the plans in whole or in part at any time for any reason to the extent permitted by law.

If the plans are terminated, you automatically will become 100% vested in the benefit you earned as of the date the plan ends to the extent funded or guaranteed, regardless of your age or years of vesting service at that time.

Losing the Right or Value of Benefits

There are ways in which you could lose your right to benefits under the Program. Also, there are some circumstances in which the value of your benefits may be reduced.

- If you leave the Getty before you are fully vested, you will not have a right to benefit payments from the Defined Contribution Retirement Plan.
- If, before you are vested, you complete 500 or fewer hours of service during 5 or more consecutive 12-month periods, then any vesting service you have completed at that time will be disregarded.
- If you provide no notice to the plan administrator that you are retiring or are applying for benefits, or if you do not keep your current address on file with the Human Resources Department, the payment of your benefits could be delayed.

- A portion or all of your benefit under the Program Plan may be assigned under a "qualified domestic relations order." See "Assignment of Benefits."

Special Rules for "Top-Heavy" Plans

The Internal Revenue Service has issued special rules establishing minimum vesting and benefit formulas for plans that become "top heavy," that is, if more than 60% of the benefits are provided to "key employees." It is not expected that this plan will ever become top heavy. If this should happen, however, you will receive complete information on any required plan benefit adjustments.

Assignment of Benefits

The plan is maintained for the exclusive benefit of employees. For the protection of your interests and those of your dependents, your benefit under this plan cannot be assigned to someone else, pledged, borrowed against or otherwise promised before that benefit is received. To the extent permitted by law, your benefit is not subject to garnishment or attachment or subject to the claim of creditors.

However, if a valid "qualified domestic relations order," (QDRO) from a state court, as determined by the plan administrator, requires the plan to set aside a portion of your benefit for your ex-spouse or children or other dependent(s), you will have no rights to that portion of your benefit. The plan has procedures covering QDRO determinations. You may request to receive a copy of those procedures without charge by writing to the Plan Administrator, named on page 19.

YOUR RIGHTS AS A PLAN MEMBER

As a participant in the J. Paul Getty Trust Employee Investment Plan and the Defined Contribution Retirement Plan, you have certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Receive Information about Your Plans and Benefits

ERISA provides that all plan participants shall be entitled to:

- Examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator's office and at other specified locations all documents governing the applicable plan, including insurance contracts, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the applicable plan with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
- Obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the applicable plan, including insurance contracts, copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series), and updated Summary Plan Description. The Plan Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.
- Receive a summary of the applicable plans' annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of this summary annual report.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the applicable employee benefit plan. The people who operate the plan, called "fiduciaries" of the plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other plan participants and beneficiaries.

No one, including your employer or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules. You must receive a written explanation of the reason for the denial. You have the right to have the plan administrator review and reconsider your claim.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of plan documents or the latest annual report from the plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a Federal court. In such a case, the court may require the plan administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the administrator. If you have a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or Federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order, you may file suit in Federal court. If it should happen that plan fiduciaries misuse the plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a Federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees, for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

If You Have Questions

If you have any questions about your benefits under the plans, you should contact the plan administrator. If you have any questions about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the plan administrator, you should contact the nearest office of Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210. You may also obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.

Claims Procedures

These procedures for filing and reviewing claims have been established under the retirement plans listed below (each a "Plan" or, collectively, the "Plans") and are intended to comply with Section 503 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and the related Department of Labor Regulations:

- The J. Paul Getty Trust Employee Investment Plan
- The J. Paul Getty Trust Defined Contribution Retirement Plan

They are effective for claims made under the Plans on or after January 1, 2002. The "Plan Administrator" of each Plan has delegated the responsibility for reviewing and resolving claims to certain individuals as described more fully below. The term "Plan Administrator" shall refer to the committee appointed by the Board of Trustees of the J. Paul Getty Trust to serve as Plan Administrator.

Any employee or former employee of the J. Paul Getty Trust, or any person claiming to be a beneficiary of such person or an "alternate payee" named in a qualified domestic relations order with respect to such person, may request a benefit payment from a Plan; request a resolution of a disputed amount of benefit payment from a Plan; or request a resolution of a dispute as to whether the person is entitled to the particular form of benefit payment under a Plan.

You may also request a complete copy of the Claims Procedures without charge by sending an email to Benefits@getty.edu or by calling 310.440.6523.

Legal Process

If it should become necessary for you or your beneficiary to take legal action against the J. Paul Getty Trust over the terms of one of the plans or your rights under ERISA, legal process should be served to the J. Paul Getty Trust at the address and phone number listed under "Administrative Information".

Service of legal process also may be made on the Plan Trustee.

Statements

If you participate in the Employee Investment Plan and the Defined Contribution Retirement Plan, you will receive regular account statements from Vanguard that show your account balance and the performance of each fund.
